NO. 18

---and a Happy New Year

We wish all our patrons a happy p osperous new year, and if we can manage it we intend to have one ourselves. To that end we ask everyone that is indebted to the firm to come and settle in full by Jan. 1st, without fail. We have bills that must be met, and cannot meet them unless our own are met by our patrons.

We are busy invoicing this week, but not too busy to attend to your wants. Whatever you need, the best way to get it is to come and see your humble servants,

Bright's Decision Favors Wets.

Judge H. I. Bright last Tuesday handed down his long-awaited decision in the Gene Clingan case, in which the defendant was charged with the sale of liquor in violation of the local option laws. Clingan admitted the sale of the liquor, his counsel arguing that the local option law was illegally carried and therefore null. On this account Judge Bright's decision has been awaited with great interest. His decision upheld the contention of the defense, and Clingan was released. The order of the Carthage city council for the printing of the ballots and the councils failure to select the polling places in advance were both held illegal in the decision.

Many country newspapers are taking a vacation this week, issuing no paper until after new year's. That isn't the News' style; however we are compromising, after a fashion, by running only four pages instead of the usual six. Back to regular size next week and thereafter indefinitely.

Thank You.

I desire to thank my many friends who have so liberally patronized me during the year just passing out. I assure you that I appreciate your help, and solicit your trade for the future. Now comes a little matter which I dislike to speak of and that is your account on the books. That is, of course, if you have one with me. I have recently bought a building of my own and I need every dollar that is coming to me, so please, if you possibly can, come in and settle your account, whether it be much or little. You know I do not send duns, and this is the first time that I have ever asked in this way for a settlement. I need the money or I would not ask for it. Wishing you the compliments of the season, I am,

Respectfully yours,

H. F. PITTS.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Spaid and their two boys, Carl and Harold, are spending the week with Mrs. Spaid's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Frick.

THE DOINGS OF CUPID.

Taylor-Cather.

Roy Taylor of Springfield and Miss Alta Cather of Jasper were married last Sunday at the M. E. parsonage in this city, Rev. Requa officiating. The ceremony was witnessed by only a few relatives of the bride, and was followed by the departure of the newly-weds for Springfield, where Mr. Taylor had prepared a home for the reception of his bride.

The groom is a prosperous and well known business man at Springfield, where he has been engaged in the drug business for some years. His bride, one of Jasper's most charming and attractive young ladies, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cather, who live three miles west of town. The wedding was the culmination of an acquaintance formed at Springfield on the occasion of one of Miss Cather's visits with a sister whose home is in that city.

The News joins their friends in wishing that their married life, so auspiciously begun, may fulfil all its roseate promise.

Peppers-Tallman.

When the senior class of Jasper high school convenes after the holidays to begin the second semester's work it will miss one of its most valued young lady members, Miss Ella Tallman, the young lady in question, having in the meantime taken upon herself the duties of a housewife. The lucky young man whose existence the above statement infers, is Mr. Cyrus Peppers of Alba and the wedding occurred last Saturday at one o'clock p. m. at the court house in Carthage, in the office of Probate Judge Hubbard, who performed the ceremony that made the happy twain one. Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Peppers proceeded to Alba, where they will make their home.

The groom is quite widely known over the southwest on account of his connection with various branches of athletics. His acquaintance with the young lady who was destined to become his wife dates from a trip to Jasper with the Alba baseball team two years ago. His bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Tallman of this city and has lived here all her life. She is a bright girl of many charms, and all her friends wish her and her husband the best that life affords.

Former Jasper Girl Weds.

The following notice of the wedding of a former Jasper girl, Miss Laura Brown, is taken from the Elizabethtown, Ky., Mirror, of Dec. 15th:

Miss Laura Brown and Mr. James Edgar Clough will be married Saturday evening, December 17, by Rev. W. R. Hendricks, of Louisville, at the home of the officiating minister. The prospective bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Brown, of this city, and is attractive young lady with many friends. The groom-to-be is a resident of Birmingham, Ala., is an employee of the L. & N. railroad and is a young man of industry and worth.

The couple will leave shortly after the ceremony for New Orleans and other southern cities on a bridal trip.

The happy pair will make their home at Birmingham, Ala.

Chas. Awick, a well known farmer of the rural districts northeast of Jasper, will hold a public sale of stock, implements and other effects on Tuesday, Jan. 10th. Sale bills advertising the same are being printed at this office.

The Chicago Male Quartet.

The fourth number of the high school lyceum course, the Chicago Male quartet and Bell Ringers, is scheduled for Friday night, Jan. 6th. This is considered by far the strongest number of the entire course, and those who have no season tickets should hurry to secure seats, for the lyceum board confidently expect every seat to be sold before the doors open for the performance.

The Chicago quartet is one of the best known and most sought after attractions in the country. Beside their singing, at which they are not excelled by any quartet today, they are America's foremost exponents of that very agreeable art, bell ringing, and present a fine program with saxophones. Newspaper comment is to the effect that their saxophone playing alone is worthy of making an entire lyceum number.

Edward Parmenter, the basso, is the best known singer of the quartet. Several Jasper people have had the fortune to hear this singer, than whom there are few better on the American stage.

Mrs. J. H. Clark of Flint, Mich., arrived in Jasper last Tuesday for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Roberts.
